Devolity Service Blocks?

Your needs and priorities are likely to change quickly. That’s why we offer a customizable consumption model that helps you maintain the optimization of your IT investment by allowing you to pay only for the cloud services you need.

Customize your services

Service Blocks are the centerpiece of our value delivery model. Using the service blocks model, we can quickly implement cloud projects and initiatives in a customized, flexible and value-driven way.

Pay only for what you need

Service Blocks are discrete, pay-as-you-use services that provide the highest levels of IT service delivery flexibility by allowing you to mix, match, add and subtract the services you use — and pay for — as your business requirements change.

Reduce TCO

If done incorrectly, your cloud environment will add cost to your bottom line. Our experience makes the most of your spend through all the phases of your cloud journey, which usually means greater efficiency and a lower total cost of ownership

You are charged solely for the services or features you require.
